Implementation of Data Digital Governance to Promote Consensus on Legal Compliance in Society

Publication of New Edition of The anthology of administrative appeal decision (Volume 18)

To promote effectiveness of legal compliance and implement and transparency of government information as well as digital data governance, the Administrative Enforcement Agency, Ministry of Justice published the New Edition of The anthology of administrative appeal decision (Volume 18) in June 2023. The Issue features new designs and the electronic version was published chronically for better understanding about core affairs managed by the Agency.

Since the establishment in 2001, the Agency and its branches have been devoted to promoting effectiveness of legal compliance and maintaining trust towards public authority and when there is a Statement of Objection issued by the obliged party or a stakeholder, the Agency will make the written decision and resolve disputes through legal perspective and resolution procedure; valuable representative cases have been selected in the Collection series. Before this new issue, 17 were published.

The cover of this Issue is the image of the Agency in watercolor painting that presents the new modern and artistic image. Cases selected are important disputes in all aspects of legal procedures with the aim to allow outsiders to understand the current status of legal governance of Statement of Objection to promote social consensus and public legal education.

To implement national policy of transparency of government information, digitalization and reduced carbon emissions, the online version of this Issue is available on the official website of the Agency (<https://www.tpk.moj.gov.tw>) . All comments and suggestions are welcome and accesses are encouraged.
